

What should never be stored: Any sensitive personal data like passwords, credit card, and private information.

Why it matters for a contact form: Local storage stores any input as texts, making them vulnerable to danger.